Information on our business operations during the COVID 19 pandemic

Dear Sir/Madam,

In the current dynamic and challenging times, our primary goal is the health of our customers, business partners and above all our employees.

In order to achieve this goal as well as our ability to supply, we have taken appropriate measures to ensure that our company continues to operate with the usual reliable quality.

Our sales channels, commercial processing and production are still available for you as usual.

Due to the unpredictability of further developments, our crisis management team consults daily in order to react flexibly to the latest challenges, to fulfill all safety precautions and to ensure business operations without serious restrictions.

Be assured: We do our best!

Our experts will be happy to assist you competently and reliably via all channels - telephone, e-mail - for your questions.

We look forward to hearing from you. Stay healthy!

Sincerely yours,

Robert Binder
President
